Performance quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate, so an investor's shares may be worth more or less than the original cost when sold. This ETF invests in ether futures contracts and does not invest directly in ether. Ether is a relatively new asset class, and the market for ether is subject to rapid changes and uncertainty. Ether is subject to unique and substantial risks, such as rapid price swings and lack of liquidity including as a result of changes in the supply of and demand for ether. Ether is largely unregulated and may be more susceptible to fraud and manipulation than more regulated investments. The value of an investment in the ETF could decline significantly and without warning, including to zero.

This ETF is actively managed. The costs associated with rolling (buying and selling) futures and the impact of margin requirements, collateral requirements and other limits may have a negative impact on performance and prevent the Fund from achieving its objective. The price and performance of ether futures should be expected to differ from the current "spot" prices ether (the prices of ether that can be purchased immediately). These differences could be significant.

Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. There is no guarantee any ProShares ETF will achieve its investment objective.

This ETF is non-diversified and is subject to risks associated with the use of futures contracts, leverage and market price variance, all of which can increase volatility and decrease performance.

Shares of any ETF are generally bought and sold at market price (not NAV) and are not individually redeemed from the fund. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. ProShares are distributed by SEI Investments Distribution Co., which is not affiliated with the funds advisor.
